

UNDER the DOME

APRIL 29, 2016

Welcome

Under the Dome is an update on actions and activities of the West Virginia Legislature, provided during the regular legislative session and interim sessions for West Virginia University faculty and staff by the WVU Office of State, Corporate and Local Relations. This issue provides a review of final action on certain bills by the governor and the legislature, as well as an update on the budget negotiations.

Protecting WVU Tech

A bipartisan group of House and Senate members introduced bills to ensure the continued viability of WVU Tech. HB 4310 (sponsored by Delegates John O’Neal, Bill Anderson, Lynne Arvon, Mick Bates, Paul Espinosa, Barbara Fleischauer, Cindy Frich, Brian Kurcaba, Tim Miley, Eric Nelson and Joe Statler) was introduced on January 27. A companion bill, SB 386 (sponsored by Senators Jeff Mullins, Bob Beach, Craig Blair, Ed Gaunch, Mike Hall, Jeff Kessler, Roman Prezioso, Charles Trump and Bob Williams), was introduced as well.

HB 4310 passed the House on February 22. It passed the Senate on March 7 with amendments. The House passed the amended bill on March 12, and it was signed by Governor Tomblin on March 25. The law goes into effect on June 9.

Efficiencies for Higher Education

Three bills passed that provide critical efficiencies and cost-savings for the University’s operations.

SB 594 allows the State Auditor to consider an agency-generated electronic invoice as an original invoice, provided that the invoice contains the vendor’s name, address, invoice number, date, amount, description of items purchased or services provided, as well as other details. This will provide efficiency and cost-savings. It passed both chambers unanimously and has been signed by the governor.

SB 439 eliminates the requirement that the state budget director must approve personal services payment under certain circumstances. This will streamline the payroll process, while retaining transparency and accountability. The bill passed both chambers and has been signed by the governor.

SB 369 reduces the number of reports that the University must make to the Legislative Oversight Commission on Education Accountability. It passed both chambers and has been signed by the governor.

The Budget

Negotiations continue on the budget between the governor and Republicans and Democrats in the House and Senate. While the governor introduced a budget during his State of the State address in January, it was not ultimately passed by either chamber. Additionally, the budgets proposed separately by the House and Senate were not agreed to by the other chamber. Therefore, the legislature adjourned on March 15 from the extended session that focused on the budget.

Further complicating the fiscal outlook, on April 21, Standard & Poor's downgraded the State's bond rating from AA to AA -. S&P cited the declining coal industry, long-term financial challenges and a weakening statewide economy for the reasons. They gave high marks to the State for its Rainy Day fund of nearly $748 million, which may decrease in the coming months because the revenue shortfall continues to increase dramatically.

It is expected that the legislature will be called into special session in the next few weeks by the governor to consider a final budget. The new fiscal year begins on July 1, 2016.

Actions by the Governor

Governor Tomblin has signed and vetoed several bills. Highlights of the governor's actions include:

- Signed SB 656, which creates the Upper Kanawha Valley Revitalization and Resiliency program and establishes a council under the West Virginia Department of Commerce, will provide resources and expertise to study and create ideas to improve the economy and quality of life of the Upper Kanawha Valley region in Kanawha and Fayette counties.
- Signed SB 6, which creates a pilot program to test recipients of TANF (Temporary Aid for Needy Families) for substance abuse.
- Signed HB 4228, which allows for transportation network creation, commonly known as Uber and Lyft. The bill will go into effect on July 1, 2016.
- Signed SB 597, which creates hospital cooperative agreements through the West Virginia Healthcare Authority that are not subject to FTC review and approval.
- Vetoed SB 254, which would have not permitted county park boards of recreation to outlaw firearms in their facilities.
- Signed HB 4334, which increases the scope of practice for advanced practice registered nurses (APRN).
- Signed HB 4009, which allows county commissions, through referendum on the primary or general election ballot, to impose a 1% countywide sales tax for road construction and maintenance.
- Signed HB 4618, which limits the use of a public officials' name and likeness on items purchased with taxpayer money.
- Signed SB 298, commonly known as the "Right to Brunch" bill, which allows counties, through a referendum vote, to allow the sale of alcohol at bars, restaurants, wineries and distilleries starting at 10 a.m. on Sundays.
- Vetoed HB 4014, which repeals certain statewide academic standards, commonly known as Common Core.
- Signed SB 619, called the Regulatory Reform Act, which requires agencies to seek and publish public comments on agency rules, as well as obtaining an economic impact and public health impact study. The bill also phases out every rule after five years.
- Signed HB 2615, known as the West Virginia Small Business Capital Act, which would assist small businesses to obtain capital through nontraditional means, such as residents directly investing in the business or idea. This is commonly known as "crowdfunding."

- Signed SB 339, the Judicial Compensation Commission, which creates a taskforce to study pay for Supreme Court justices, circuit court judges, family court judges and magistrates.
- Signed HB 4013, which requires voters to present identification when voting at their polling place and also automatically registers individuals to vote when they obtain a driver's license or state ID at the DMV, unless they opt out.
- Signed HB 4364, the Internet Privacy Protection Act, which prevents an employer from compelling an employee or applicant from providing user-name, password or other information for social media accounts, unless the technology used is provided by the employer.
- Vetoed HB 4307, which would have allowed a firearm to be carried for self-defense in state parks, state forests and state recreational areas.
- Signed SB 68, which disallows the state Health Care Authority from conducting rate review and rate settings for hospitals.
- Signed HB 4463, which permits the practice of telemedicine.
- Signed HB 4365, which modernizes the Certificate of Need (CON) process for hospitals.

High-Profile Bills Not Completing Legislative Action

Soda Tax

SB 604 increased the current soda tax by $0.05 on 16 oz. and half-liters, $4 on gallons and $0.05 on dry mixtures. The additional revenue would have been divided by giving 40% of the new money to the WVU School of Medicine, 20% to Marshall's medical school, 20% to the West Virginia School of Osteopathic Medicine and 20% to DHHR for Medicaid expansion programs.

HB 4504 increased the current soda tax by $0.01 on 16 oz. and half-liters, $0.80 on gallons and $0.01 on dry mixtures. The additional revenue would have been divided by giving 75% to fund maintenance and operations of higher education institutions and 25% to fund county health departments.

Higher Education Tuition

SB 677 would have allowed higher education institutions to increase the cost of tuition for students taking more than 16 credit hours and also change the formula for calculating tuition on online courses.

Generation Next: 40 Under 40

For 11 years, the State Journal has honored 40 West Virginians under 40 with their "Generation Next: 40 Under 40" award. WVU was well-represented among the honorees. Six individuals from WVU were honored by the State Journal and Governor Tomblin on March 31.
